

Marine Stairs

Marine Stairs are great for:

- Floating Docks, Piers and Bulkheads-including seawalls and swim platforms. The Marine Stairs easily mount to any surface with a 90 degree angle.
- People with disabilities-these steps actually enable older citizens to get in and out of the water more easily. People with handicaps can also use the Marine Stairs.
- Pets-they can easily get out of the water without you having to either pick them up or send them back to the shore. This prevents them from tracking mud, etc. onto your dock, making it dirty and slippery.

GREAT FOR PETS!

Why climb out when you can walk out?

The Marine Stair is a bold new design that is different from all conventional boat dock ladders. Unlike conventional dock, pier, swim platform, seawall or other boat dock ladders that allow you access to and from the water in a vertical fashion, the Marine Stair is a staircase. Secondly, conventional boat dock ladders have vertical steps that are typically between 2 and 3 inches in depth where as the Marine Stairs are approximately 8 inches deep.

Conventional ladder steps often mount too close to the structure to allow one to properly place their feet. Marine Stairs are not only much deeper, but are also offset from the mounting structure, which allows easier foot placement. Each step on the Marine Stairs is approximately 16 inches wide. The vertical height between each step is approximately 10-12 inches.

When installed, the Marine Stairs can be solid mounted by bolting the upper plate directly to the mounting surface or attached via the included hinges.
