Tiger Docks Expands Engineering Department

O'FALLON, MO (May 20, 2015) – Tiger Docks® announces the recent addition of Bob Shea to the company's engineering department. Shea is trained in architectural/technical services and brings over a dozen years' experience in AutoCAD design, drafting and estimating to the growing dock manufacturer and marine products distributor.

"Every project request requires a drawing be made and approved before dock production can begin," noted Tim Wiechens, lead draftsman at Tiger Docks. "With our increasing amount of business, we needed help to keep up with the added demands on the engineering department. Bob has made a difference for us from day one. We appreciate his intuitive approach, acumen and accuracy."
